

Claims

What is claimed is:

1. Stroller Sun Screen comprising:

an elliptical screen portion;

a spring steel band frame;

a sewn binding that traps said band frame so that it surrounds said screen portion and encloses said band portion;

a pair of hook and loop fastening strips;

said binding sewn onto said screen portion; and said hook and loop fastening strips each sewn to the left and right side of said binding.

2. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said hook and loop fastening strips attach to the left and right frame members of a standard baby stroller thereby fastening said sun screen to the normally open portion of said baby stroller thereby enclosing most of the area between said left and right frame members and the leading edge of the canopy of said stroller. thereby creating shade for the occupant of the stroller even when the sun is at a low angle.

3. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said spring steel band is capable of being twisted so that the entire sun screen of the present invention can be collapsed into a circular shape that is approximately on quarter the size of the fully opened sun screen.

4. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said screening material is comprised of a fine mesh polyester material.

5. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 further comprising a carry bag that can removably retain said sun screen when in its collapsed position.

6. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said hook and loop strips can act as pivot points so that said sun screen can be rotated up so that said screen is parallel to the ground so that the occupant of the stroller can see in an unencumbered way and yet is still protected from the full rays of the overhead sun.

7. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said frame and enclosed screen are approximately ---- inches long and ---- inches wide

8. Stroller Sun Screen as claimed in claim 1 wherein said hook and loop fastening strips are approximately two inches wide and six inches long.
